COVID-19 Operational Readiness Statement

STATEMENT OF READINESS

Ashton Thomas Private Wealth has been and remains committed to a state of readiness for any emergency or rapid-response event. The unprecedented COVID-19 pandemic and related government-recommended mitigation measures have spotlighted the need for business readiness to handle such events.

Ashton Thomas advisors and staff are currently capable of working remotely with full operational and communication capabilities. The firm's Amplify digital platform is an integral part of this readiness, as well as our ongoing commitment to future-ready business functionality from anywhere at any time.

ACTION PLAN

Due to the recommendations of federal and state officials, the firm has decided to implement a fourteen-day remote access plan for Ashton Thomas advisors and staff. The safety and wellbeing of the firm's personnel, clients and the general public are paramount.
